

MEMORANDUM NO. 2026-003

To : All Employees

From : Management & HR Department

Date : June 17, 2026

Subject : Professional Conduct and Operational Guidelines for Events and Shoots

To All Employees,

In ensuring professional conduct and optimizing efficiency and effectiveness of everyone's performance while doing the course of their duties outside office premises, we are reinforcing the following company policies:

1. Shoot and Event Assignments

All event and shoot schedules, itineraries, manpower requirements, and related operational arrangements must be coordinated with and approved by Management or the designated Immediate Supervisor. Employees assigned to cover events and shoots are expected to report on time and be present at the agreed call time. Attendance during approved event and shoot assignments shall generally be considered part of the employee's working hours, subject to Company policies and applicable labor regulations.

1.1. Travel and Punctuality

Employees are responsible for managing their travel arrangements and allowing sufficient travel time to ensure timely arrival at the designated venue or location. Whether reporting directly to the venue or departing from the office, employees are expected to arrive before the scheduled call time and be ready to perform their assigned duties.

1.2. Attendance and Availability

Employees who are unable to attend an assigned event, shoot, meeting, or project due to illness, medical emergencies, or other valid reasons must immediately notify their Immediate Supervisor and the HR Department. Employees are expected to provide reasonable notice whenever possible to allow Management to make the necessary operational adjustments.

Unjustified refusal to attend or perform an assigned project, event, or shoot without a valid reason may be considered insubordination and may result in disciplinary action.

1.3. Professional Conduct

Employees representing the Company during events, shoots, meetings, and other official engagements are expected to conduct themselves professionally at all times. Team members must remain composed, attentive, respectful, and focused on their responsibilities while interacting with clients, partners, guests, interviewees, and the public.

As representatives of CHINOY TV, employees are expected to uphold the Company's standards of professionalism, reliability, and excellence in every assignment.

2. Use of Personal Cellphone

All team members assigned to cover events, shoots, interviews, and other field assignments must refrain from unnecessary use of their personal cellphones while performing their duties in order to remain alert, focused, and fully engaged in the task at hand.

Management recognizes that cellphones may be necessary for work-related communication and emergencies. However, personal cellphone use should be kept to a minimum and must not interfere with productivity, responsiveness, or the quality of work being delivered.

This policy aims to promote consistently high standards of professionalism and performance during event and shoot coverage. Frequent social media browsing, personal texting, and non-essential phone calls can create distractions, disrupt operational workflows, and reduce overall efficiency.

Employees are likewise reminded that giving their complete attention and focus during interviews, meetings, event coverage, and interactions with clients, partners, and subjects demonstrates professionalism and respect for the individuals being featured or served. Maintaining focus enables the team to capture important moments, respond promptly to operational needs, and deliver the level of quality expected from the Company.

3. Wearing of Company's Official Uniform

2.1. Wear Your Company ID

All employees must wear their company-issued ID and ensure that it is visibly displayed at all times while covering events, shoots, meetings, and other official Company engagements.

2.2. Wear Your Company Uniform

Employees are required to wear the prescribed Company polo shirt and pair it with appropriate bottoms such as pants, slacks, or other approved attire. Uniforms must be clean, presentable, and well-maintained. Clothing should allow employees to perform their duties comfortably and professionally, and should not be excessively loose, overly tight, revealing, or inappropriate for the assignment.

2.3. Use Appropriate Footwear

Employees must wear clean and appropriate footwear suitable for the nature of the assignment, such as closed-toe shoes, sneakers, or rubber shoes. Slippers, beachwear, and excessively worn-out footwear are not permitted unless specifically required by the nature of the shoot or approved by Management.

All employees are expected to wear the complete Company uniform, maintain proper grooming, and observe good personal hygiene while representing the Company. Employees should present themselves in a manner that reflects professionalism, credibility, and respect for clients, partners, guests, and the public.

By wearing the Company's uniform and identification, employees serve as ambassadors of CHiNOY TV and are expected to uphold the organization's standards of excellence, professionalism, and integrity at all times.

4. Receiving Honorarium, Cash, Angpaos, Prizes and Gift Packs

All honoraria, cash gifts, angpaos, gift certificates, vouchers, gift packs, raffle prizes, and other benefits received in connection with an official Company assignment must be declared and turned over to Management immediately upon completion of the event, shoot, or work-related engagement.

Management shall have the sole discretion to determine the appropriate disposition of such items and benefits. In many instances, gift packs, souvenirs, and similar tokens of appreciation may be returned to the employee who received them. However, all items must first be properly declared and surrendered to ensure transparency, accountability, and compliance with Company policies.

This requirement likewise applies to any approved assistant, crew member, intern, freelancer, contractor, or representative accompanying the employee during an official Company assignment.

Employees who are uncertain whether a particular item or benefit falls under this policy must immediately consult their Immediate Supervisor or the HR Department. Failure to disclose or surrender items covered by this policy may be subject to disciplinary action.

5. Bringing Unauthorized Personnel

Bringing unauthorized individuals to the workplace, events, shoots, meetings, or any official Company assignment is strictly prohibited. This policy is intended to maintain security, safety, operational efficiency, accountability, and clear communication during Company activities.

Employees who believe additional manpower is necessary for an assignment must obtain prior approval from their Immediate Supervisor or Management. Any request involving additional personnel, budget requirements, logistics, transportation, or other operational considerations must be communicated and approved before the scheduled event or shoot.

5.1. Safety and Security

Company workplaces, event venues, and shooting locations may have specific safety, security, and operational requirements. Unauthorized individuals may be unfamiliar with these requirements, potentially creating safety risks, operational disruptions, or security concerns.

5.2. Company Liability

The Company may be exposed to liability for injuries, accidents, property damage, or other incidents involving unauthorized individuals who accompany employees during official assignments. Such situations may also create legal, insurance, reporting, and compensation concerns for the Company.

5.3. Operational Coordination

Additional personnel may affect client expectations, venue access, transportation arrangements, manpower allocation, event accreditation, and project budgets. Proper coordination and approval are therefore required to ensure smooth operations and professional representation of the Company.

5.4. Advance Approval Requirement

Employees must obtain prior approval from their Immediate Supervisor or Management before bringing any assistant, companion, freelancer, contractor, intern, family member, or other individual to an official Company assignment. Failure to secure prior approval may result in disciplinary action.

Employees are likewise responsible for disclosing any honoraria, angpaos, gifts, allowances, or other benefits received by any approved accompanying personnel during the course of an official Company assignment.

6. Use of Company Resources

All employees are expected to exercise utmost care, responsibility, and diligence in the use of company resources. This includes, but is not limited to, company-owned equipment, cameras, computers, mobile devices, props, shooting materials, office furniture, event materials, company vehicles, digital assets, software subscriptions, and licensed platforms.

Company resources also include access to digital tools and services such as Adobe Creative Cloud, Canva, Artlist, Envato, stock footage and music libraries, cloud storage platforms, social media accounts, websites, passwords, and other software or subscription-based services paid for by the Company. Employees are prohibited from sharing, lending, transferring, or allowing unauthorized individuals to access these resources without prior approval from Management.

Any loss, damage, misuse, unauthorized use, sharing, or compromise of company resources resulting from negligence, misconduct, or failure to follow company policies may result in disciplinary action. Depending on the severity of the offense, this may include reimbursement of damages, salary deduction where legally permissible, suspension, revocation of access privileges, and/or termination of employment.

Employees are expected to immediately report any loss, damage, security breach, unauthorized access, or misuse of company resources to their Immediate Supervisor and the HR Department.

7. Assignment of Works and Responsibilities

Management and Immediate Supervisors have the authority to assign work, projects, schedules, and responsibilities based on operational requirements, business needs, employee capabilities, and project priorities, provided that such assignments are consistent with the employee's role, Company policies, and applicable labor laws.

7.1. Supervisor Responsibility

Immediate Supervisors are responsible for properly planning assignments, considering employees' skills, experience, workload, availability, and the resources required to successfully complete the assigned task or project.

7.2. Project and Schedule Flexibility

Given the nature of the media, events, and production industry, employees may be assigned to multiple projects, events, shoots, campaigns, or other Company initiatives simultaneously. Employees may likewise be required to work beyond regular office hours, on weekends, or on holidays when operational requirements demand.

In such cases, overtime compensation, rest day premiums, offset arrangements, or other applicable benefits shall be provided in accordance with Company policy and applicable labor laws. Any offset arrangements shall be subject to Management approval and operational requirements.

7.3. Raising Concerns

Employees who believe that a particular assignment is unsafe, unethical, unlawful, or inconsistent with Company policies are encouraged to promptly raise their concerns with their Immediate Supervisor and/or the HR Department for proper review and resolution.

Employees are expected to carry out lawful and reasonable instructions related to their work. Unjustified refusal, deliberate non-compliance, or repeated failure to perform assigned duties may be considered insubordination and may be subject to disciplinary action.

8. Preserving Intellectual Property and Confidential Information

Employees involved in creative, production, editorial, marketing, business development, and other innovative projects are expected to safeguard the Company's intellectual property, proprietary materials, and confidential information at all times.

Confidential information includes, but is not limited to, client information, business strategies, proposals, creative concepts, scripts, production plans, marketing campaigns, financial information, pricing, trade secrets, passwords, internal documents, and other non-public information acquired during the course of employment.

Employees shall not disclose, share, copy, distribute, publish, or use confidential information or Company-owned intellectual property for personal benefit or for the benefit of any third party without prior authorization from Management.

All work products, concepts, designs, content, videos, photographs, graphics, documents, presentations, marketing materials, and other materials created, developed, or produced by employees in connection with their employment shall remain the property of the Company, unless otherwise agreed upon in writing.

Employees are expected to exercise caution when discussing Company matters in public places, on social media, with clients, suppliers, competitors, former employees, or any unauthorized individual. Any actual or suspected unauthorized disclosure of confidential information must be reported immediately to Management.

9. Policy Violations and Disciplinary Actions

All employees are expected to comply with Company policies, procedures, and standards of conduct. Failure to observe or comply with these policies may result in appropriate disciplinary action, depending on the nature, frequency, and severity of the violation.

Disciplinary measures may include verbal counseling, written warnings, suspension, or termination of employment, subject to due process and applicable labor laws.

Management reserves the right to investigate any alleged violation of Company policies and to take appropriate action to protect the interests, operations, reputation, and assets of the Company.

This policy shall take effect immediately on June 17, 2026.

We thank everyone for their continued cooperation and professionalism. As CHiNOY TV continues to grow, these policies are designed to help us maintain high standards of accountability, professionalism, teamwork, and operational excellence while fostering a safe, respectful, and productive work environment for all.

For your guidance and strict compliance.
